

Elizabethtown, NM -1943
Courtesy www.legendsofamerica.com

Elizabethtown Mutz Hotel - 1943
Courtesy www.legendsofamerica.com

Red Bandanna Mine, Mt. Baldy
Source Unavailable

Big Ditch Flume, Elizabethtown, NM
Courtesy www.legendsofamerica.com

Farm House with Elizabethtown Mutz Hotel
Ruins in Background
Courtesy www.forums.ghosttowns.com

Burro Pack Train, Elizabethtown, NM - 1878
Courtesy www.mtgothicomes.com

Elizabethtown Church

Courtesy www.pinterest.com

Mutz Farmhouse built in 1870

Photo by John Collier, 1943

Source Unavailable

Courtesy www.ghosttowns.com

Courtesy www.legendsofamerica.com

Elizabethtown circa 1890

Elizabethtown Drug Store & Post Office
Courtesy www.ghosttowns.com

Elizabethtown Cemetery
Courtesy www.cityofdust.blogspot.com

ELIZABETHTOWN

"The discovery of gold on Baldy Mountain in 1866 brought such a rush of fortune-makers to the Moreno Valley that "E-town" became a roaring mining camp almost overnight. Because of water and transportation problems, and a decline in ore quality, it had become virtually a ghost town by 1875."