

OBITUARY

Jack Milton Kilburn

Mrs. Robert K. Bell of Vanadium received a message that her nephew, Jack Kilburn passed away in Stockton, Calif. this week of a heart attack. Jack was the youngest son of Marshal William Kilburn, who gave his life while discharging his duty as town marshal of Silver City. Shortly after Mr. Kilburn's death, Mrs. Kilburn with her four children went to Los Angeles to make her home and where the children received fine educations. During World War I, Jack served three years in the Navy. His wife preceded him in death. Surviving him are three daughters, Jackie, Alice and Kay, six grandchildren. two sisters, Mrs. Fred Gilmore of Santa Barbara and Mrs. Harvey Hilton of Manhattan Beach; three aunts, Mrs. Bell of Vanadium, Mrs. Carolyn Stauber and Mrs. Mary Piatt of Long Beach Calif., and many nieces and nephews. His brother Harvey passed away in August, 1957. Many of the old-timers will remember Jack driving around the streets with his pinto Burro, "Nelli" and little cart which his father gave him before his untimely death.
